Very honored customer

We are pleased about your purchase decision; you have acquired a good Hepco & Becker product! Beside the well-known advantages of a centre stand (standing of the chassis, ease of service smaller space when parked etc ...); this product is characterized by its stability and by its ease of handling!

Putting the motorcycle up on our stand takes place with little energy expenditure and almost exclusively via the employment of ones own body weight!

When assembling your centre stand, please read and carefully consider the following instructions. Please check the illustration to understand each part and its location! We also recommend that when fitting the spring set, one person stabilizes the motorcycle, whilst the other fits.

Assembly instruction:

Attachment of the Centre Stand:

Loosen the screw of the exhaust clip and turn these around 180' until this stands upward inside. This you can afterwards tighten again!

The original engine retaining screw can be drawn out and removed now. The shift lever must therefore be pointed upward (to do this).

Before you install the Centre Stand ① and the adapter latches ②+③ under between joints of the washers  $\varnothing 28$ ,  $\varnothing 20 \times 2$  [①③], these (main parts) should be properly greased. Following this you can tighten the parts with the socket-head cap screws M10x55 ⑥ and M10 x 25 ⑤ together with self-locking nuts M 10 [①①] easily (to finger tight).

The hexagonal screw M12 x 1.25 x 225mm ④ can be pushed now from the left through the front fastening spots of the adapters. This happens with the models 1998-2002 under between joints of the spacer sleeves

Bolt the hexagonal screw with the original mother M12 x 1.25 ⑩ together with washer  $\varnothing 12.5$  [①②].

You can now tighten all screws!

Now please check the smooth operation of your centre stand, before you continue with the assembly.

Attachment of the Spring:

Hang the spring set ⑨ at the framework of your Varadero.

Stretch now the spring set by means of large screwdriver or special pliers or (preferably) a suitable spring hook onto your centre stand.

Ensure all fasteners are correctly tightened, split pins locked open etc (if applicable) & then recheck the functionality & operation of your centre stand for smoothness.

We wish you an accident-free season and good traveling all the time!
